1 2th International Exhibition & Conference on Minerals, Metals, Metallurgy & Materials

29 30 31 August 2018 PRAGATI MAIDAN, NEW DELHI, INDIA

Organised by

The rise in population, growth in the economy, urbanization and the increasing domestic requirements, has created a strong demand for minerals and metals.

In the last few years, India has seen a significant growth in minerals with the government granting leases for longer durations of 20 to 30 years. Mining Sector Contribution to GDP US$ 21.86 Billion, In FY16, India had 1,878 operative mines. For global players, India is a big market for mineral resources, as metals and power demand is expected to have robust growth in long term.

India ranks 4th globally in terms of iron ore production and 3rd largest producer of crude steel in the Asia-Pacific region in 2015. In FY16, production is expected to reach 140 million tonnes of iron ore. India is third Total finished steel production (alloy+ non-alloy) in India is estimated to reach 90 million tonnes in Fy16.

Currently, aluminium is the second most used metal in the world after steel and the third most available element in the earth constituting almost 7.3 per cent by mass. At present, aluminium is the fastest growing non-ferrous metal and its production volume is next only to steel. Domestically, the demand and consumption of aluminium is projected to rise to about three million tonnes by 2017 from nearly 1.71 million tonnes now.

Also, copper accounts for third in consumption after steel and aluminium. India is also among the top five zinc mining countries globally.
